

Go ahead and butt dial me

by Dr. David Gutman,
Advanced Hemorrhoid Specialists

We make it easy to get in contact. With the addition of our new online scheduling tool, you aren't limited to a phone call alone. A lot of people are embarrassed to take the first steps toward treatment, so we've put in place a discreet way for you to make the first move.

If you've been holding off on reaching out to me to discuss your problem with hemorrhoids, simply go online and visit us at SensitiveCare.com to get the conversation started. There you can schedule a time to talk with me about your problem, either over the phone or via Zoom. I'll ask questions and get a general idea about what's going on back there.

We've made the process almost as easy as butt-dialing, but much more useful and less embarrassing. After we talk, the next step is to schedule an exam in our office. You can even be seen the very same day.

Our goal is to take the stress out of seeking treatment. We've also taken the stress out of getting treatment, too.

David
Gutman, MD

I offer two, non-surgical methods to treat hemorrhoids. One reduces the blood flow that feeds the hemorrhoids, improving inflammation and causing them to shrink. The other is better suited to removing larger hemorrhoids. Both take just a few seconds to do.

Since they are performed in an area with no nerve endings, they can be administered right in the comfort of my office without anesthesia.

There is virtually no pain, no prep needed, there are no major restrictions, and you don't have to take time off of work. Again, consultations are free of charge, and our procedures are covered by insurance.
