

He'd given up hope

by Dr. David Gutman,
Advanced Hemorrhoid Specialists

One patient recently told me he'd given up on the idea of ever finding relief from his hemorrhoids. "I had absolutely no hope that this would ever get better," he said. "I didn't want to get surgery, so I thought I'd have to live with this forever. Thank you so much for helping me."

Hemorrhoids are a very real medical condition that often ensnare people in a web of hopelessness. Some live a life of fear and shame, wondering if their secret will be exposed when they leave the house courtesy of blood spots on their pants. They endure the pain, itching and endless wiping at home, and struggle to keep it under wraps in public.

But because hemorrhoids aren't life threatening, many downplay the significant impact they can have on a person's life. And, what's worse, they live with the symptoms of hemorrhoids, not knowing there are simple, non-surgical treatments that can alleviate the problem.

Hiding in hopelessness isn't the answer.

But here's what is.

I have two treatments designed to safely eliminate hemorrhoids. Both take just a few seconds to do. Since they are performed in an area with no nerve endings, they can be administered right in the comfort of my office without anesthesia.

There is virtually no pain, no prep needed and there are no major restrictions. Consultations are free of charge and our procedures are covered by insurance.

If your deductible has been met, now is the perfect time to come in.
